The Talk of Stamford Bridge

TOP of the table, if only for 3½ hours, after our early Boxing Day win against Blackpool, but back to third place when the return holiday fixture at Blackpool was postponed on Monday night. That was how the Christmas programme turned out for us — an unsatisfactory finish after a pleasing start. So we kick-off today two points behind Manchester United and Leeds and with a game in hand. It looks like March or April before we shall be able to fit in another visit to Blackpool and play off the postponed fixture.

The "match off" decision did not interfere with our three-days' special training schedule at Blackpool, from which the players returned on Thursday. And though we were "out of business" ourselves on Monday, we were very active spectators, taking in two matches. In the afternoon, our contingent saw Manchester United held 1-1 at home by Sheffield United (Tommy Docherty says "We were cheering quietly for John Harris's lads!"), and in the evening we travelled on to Ewood Park, where Leeds beat Blackburn 2-0. We are due to play at Leeds in three weeks' time, and considered Monday's preview of them well worth while.

Our party at Blackpool this week comprised 18 players — the 11 who won the Boxing Day match here, plus John Dunn, Frank Upton, Bobby Tambling, Peter Osgood, Peter Houseman and new signings Mike Jones and Tommy McColl. Training was carried out in the mornings in the hotel grounds, and full advantage was taken of the indoor facilities, including swimming-pool, steam baths, record-player and games room.

Please note that we have brought forward the kick-off in our Third Round F.A. Cup-tie against Northampton here next Saturday to 2.45 p.m. in order to help ease transport congestion resulting from ourselves and Fulham both being drawn at home. All Stand seats have been sold, and tickets to season-ticket holders will be in the post by this week-end.

This afternoon we play Leicester City for the second time this season — we drew 1-1 at Filbert Street in September — and there may be two more meetings ahead. For Leicester, like ourselves, have reached the home-and-away Semi-Finals of the Football League Cup, in the draw for which we have been kept apart. Leicester are paired with Plymouth Argyle, while we face Aston Villa in the first leg at Villa Park on Wednesday, January 20 and in the return here on Wednesday, February 10. So there is the possibility that we shall be meeting Leicester, the League Cup holders, in the Final (which is also on the two-leg basis).

On the subject of Cup football, our Juniors achieved a well-earned 4-1 victory over Q.P.R. at Loftus Road in the Second Round of the F.A. Youth Cup 12 days ago, scoring three second-half goals despite being down to ten men through a knee injury sustained by right-half Jim McCalliog. There is another stiff hurdle awaiting our youngsters in the next Round — Swindon Town away, to be played on Tuesday, January 12 (7.30 p.m.)

For the record: Though our unbeaten away record for the season (the last of its kind in the Football League) went at Sunderland a fortnight ago, our players are to be congratulated on having maintained the distinction for so long. No previous side in Chelsea history had ever gone that far into a season without losing an away League fixture.

Spectators who saw Blackpool outside-right Leslie Lea carried off on a stretcher here last Saturday will be pleased to know that he did not suffer any fracture of the ankle, as was feared at the time.

In the Christmas programme we omitted to record the recent transfer of full-back

FRONT COVER SHOT

WE wish you all we wish ourselves in the way of Good Luck in 1965, and Peter Bonetti, Barry Bridges, Ron Harris and John Mortimore “line up” to welcome in the New Year with an eager, hopeful eye on the trophy that has eluded Chelsea ever since our formation in 1905 — the F.A. Cup.

Will this be our year for Wembley? We’ve been wondering that at this time every season since the Final moved there from Stamford Bridge in 1923 . . . and this year is no exception.

But before we start out — against Northampton Town here next Saturday — on the path that will lead two teams to Wembley on May 1st, there are precious League Championship points at stake this afternoon. First things first, lads.

Alan Harris to Coventry City, but we take this slightly belated opportunity to thank him for his fine service to Chelsea and wish him every success with his new club. Alan, who was 22 on Monday, came up through our Youth Section and, over a period of five seasons made 70 League and four F.A. Cup appearances for Chelsea. We did not want to lose him, but equally did not wish to stand in his way when Coventry came with their offer of regular first-team football. Alan still trains with us two days a week and will continue to do so until he marries and settles down in Coventry early in the New Year. We know that younger brother Ron will keep us well informed of the progress of Alan’s career in new colours.

FAREWELL TO 1964: A 2-0 WIN, THEN

Barry Bridges shoots us into the lead after an hour in the Boxing Day game against Blackpool. England goalkeeper Tony Waiters had saved everything. Then came his only slip — he failed to hold a cross from Tommy Knox and Bridges flashed the ball into the net.

Three players down . . . and where's the ball? Can you spot it in this goalmouth scramble? Look closely and you'll see it showing just behind Bert Murray's feet.

BLACKPOOL "RETURN" IS SNOWED OFF

Three minutes after the first goal, Bridges (far right) makes it 2-0. His angled shot beats Waiters, and the ball is on its way into goal off the upright.

John Mortimore is right "in the picture" for this corner. As in the picture opposite, Blackpool's goalmouth is packed . . . again the ball was cleared.

IN OFF THE POST

Your letters should be of not more than 150 words and addressed to "In off the Post", Chelsea F.C., Fulham Road, London, S.W.6.

CAR BADGE

I FEEL, as an ardent Chelsea supporter, that car owners would welcome the introduction of a "Chelsea Supporters Badge".

As an "exile" now living in Lincoln (but still travelling down to see games) it would give me an additional opportunity of "spreading the gospel".

M. A. Harvey.

12, Beech Avenue,
Nettleham, nr. Lincoln.

● We understand that the Supporters' Club do have such a badge.

WHAT A TEAM!

I SEE that Chelsea have had ten English Internationals since the war, a total beaten only by Manchester United (16), Wolves (14) and Spurs (13).

What a great team they would have made: Bonetti; Shellito, P. Sillett; Armstrong, Bentley, Venables; Brabrook, Greaves, Lawton, Tambling, Blunstone.

Bonetti (Under-23s) is the odd man out, but will be in the full England team soon.

A. Foreman.

UNLUCKY COLOURS?

THIS season I have seen Chelsea play six times, and the two games they lost were against Burnley (0-1) and West Ham (0-3). Both clubs wear claret and blue and I wonder if these colours have always been unlucky for Chelsea?

David Hill.

38, The Dingle,
Hillingdon, Middlesex.

● We don't think so—last season we took three points off Burnley, beat Villa here and drew twice with West Ham.

CUP FINAL TICKETS

WHAT chance would the Chelsea supporter who travels to Stamford Bridge every week, and that includes me, have of getting a Cup Final ticket if Chelsea get to Wembley?

Every year many people who have travelled to home and away games, and cup ties and semi-finals must be satisfied with their armchairs and television sets instead of the atmosphere of a packed Wembley while disinterested parties enjoy front row seats.

D. McCleave.

99, Cavendish Road,
London, S.W.12

● The Football Association estimate that Wembley could be filled ten times over with the number of people who would like to see each Cup Final. If anyone can come up with a solution satisfactory to all, they will be delighted to hear.

If Chelsea get to Wembley, supporters with the most complete sets of coupons (see page 3) will be given priority in the distribution of Cup Final tickets.

John Hollins

Our 18-year-old right-half has happy memories of this season's previous match against Leicester City. He scored his first goal in League football and saved us a point in a 1-1 draw.

ABOUT OUR VISITORS

WHILE things have not gone quite as well as expected this winter, Leicester City have maintained a respectable place in the table, despite being without their skipper and left-half Colin Appleton for two months. Appleton, one of their most consistent players in recent years, was injured early in November, and there is little doubt that his influence has been missed.

Another notable absentee was centre-forward Ken Keyworth, who was transferred to Coventry City at the beginning of December. He had only recently recovered from injuries received in a car crash, and Leicester released him without fee in recognition of his great service to them.

As usual Leicester's last line of defence is in the capable hands of England goalkeeper Gordon Banks. Now in his sixth season at Filbert Street, Banks, previously with Chesterfield has made more than 200 League appearances for Leicester, and has rarely lapsed from his high standard.

John Sjoberg comes from Aberdeen, and has been a professional since 1960. He made his debut at centre-half in October that year, but most of his appearances have been at right-back — until Monday, when he was preferred to Ian King at centre-half.

Sjoberg's partner is Richie Norman, from Heaton, near Newcastle, who was signed from a colliery club in 1958, and first played in the senior side in January, 1960. He has been an ever-present in three of the past four seasons.

The transfer of Frank McLintock to Arsenal in October has given Bobby Roberts the chance to settle down at right-half in Leicester's team. Signed from Hibernian in September, 1963, he has also played at centre-forward and inside-forward.

In the absence of Appleton, Bill McDermont has been filling the left-half position. Born at Paisley, he is another product of Scottish junior football, and made his debut for Leicester, at centre-half, towards the end of season 1962-63.

Willie Hodgson began his career with St. Johnstone, from whom he was signed by Sheffield United in 1957, and joined Leicester in September 1963. For the Sheffield club he played most frequently at inside-forward, but recently Leicester have been playing him on the right-wing.

England Under-23 international Graham Cross also plays county cricket for Leicestershire. He joined City's professional staff in 1960, and has given excellent service in several positions. This season, for example, he has played right-back, left-back, left-half and inside-left and inside-right.

Successor to Ken Keyworth at centre-forward is Jim Goodfellow, a native of Edinburgh who was signed from Third Lanark in the summer of 1963. He made five First Division appearances last winter, and was recalled this season at the beginning of October.

David Gibson joined Leicester from Hibernian in January 1962, while still in the Army. He has since won Scotland honours and gained a reputation as one of the best ball-playing inside-forwards in the country.

Tall outside-left Mike Stringfellow will also shortly celebrate the third anniversary of his transfer to Filbert Street. He was signed from Mansfield on January 17th, 1962, and has subsequently been an automatic first-team choice.

Another versatile member of the staff is Tom Sweeney, who this season has played in every forward position except outside-right. He is yet another of the many Scots manager Matt Gillies has brought to Leicester.

Born at Nelson, Lancashire, he progressed as a referee in the Norfolk and Suffolk League and the Eastern Counties League. He is in his eighth season on the Football League list.

He hopes his exercise schedule will then be stepped up in preparation for a return to light training.
